Donate Halloween Candy to Mattie Miracle Cancer Foundation

If you are looking to share any leftover candy after the fun of Halloween night, we are collecting donations for the Mattie Miracle Cancer Foundation. It is a local nonprofit that does wonderful work to support kids with cancer and their families. The Foundation uses Halloween candy to stock snack carts at both MedStar Georgetown University Hospital and Children's Hospital at Sinai in Baltimore. The carts make "rounds" three times a week, bringing smiles to many. Of course, you can also buy an extra bag or two to donate. Look for the donation bin in Corry Hall through November 11th.

Thank you!
